

TUNGAMAH

3  1  1

Built in 1890, this historic landmark was once Tungamah's chemist shop and then in 1915 became a thriving bakery. It even still has the original baking ovens at the rear of the home. The shop finally closed its doors in 1976 and became purely a family home. Other features of this home include a workable wood fire stove as well as a modern upright gas stove, a relatively new electric hot water service, 2 gas heaters, a wood fire heater and ceiling fans to name a few. Outside you will find lovely gardens, rainwater tanks, a timber flour shed now used for storage and other shedding.

With some flair, imagination and hard work this building could be restored to its previous condition and would be an opportunity to become part of Tungamah's history.
